

John is a 29-year-old boy who loves sports and his greatest passion is Italian football. Like most of us, sometimes he wants to play football with his friends after work or on weekends, but it often happens that someone of them can not be willing for various commitments. That's why John loses hope every time he organizes a match and can never find all the players.

When John try to organize a match with his friends.

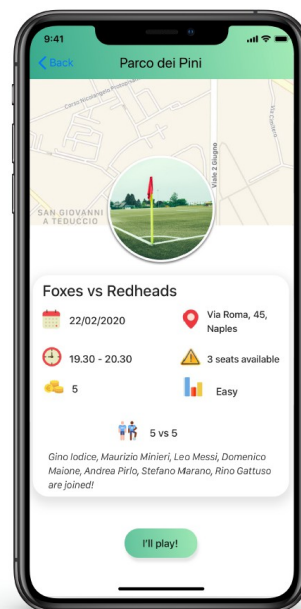

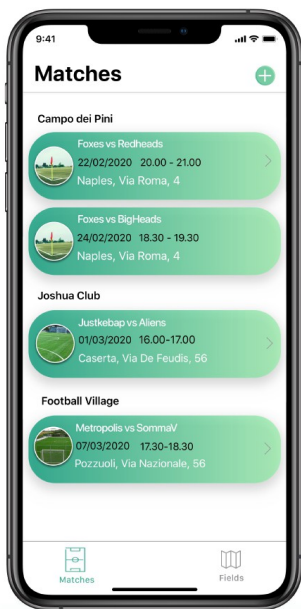

It gets very difficult for him to organize events, especially where he lives, because he has to check if the playing field is available as well as for all the players.

These things do not always go well, that's why he often finds himself having the field booked but without players and vice versa.

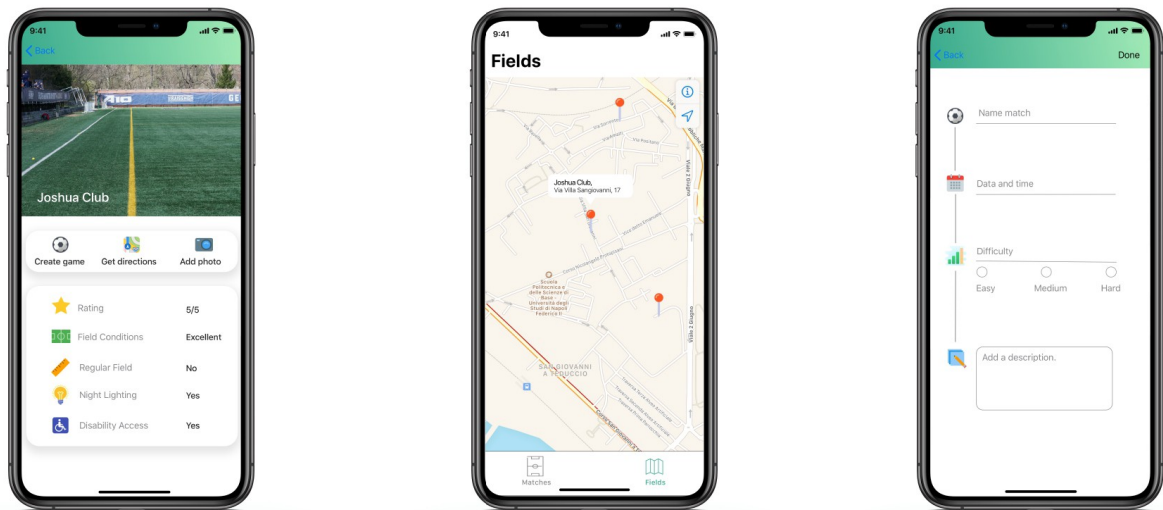

John finds out that there are two main problems that hinder the organization of the game, namely:

- 1. Reaching the total number of players available
- 2. Being able to book the football field on time

In order to solve these troubles this app guarantees to create events, be sure to book a football field available nearby and never be without players.

Screen showing the matches John will attend and details of an event.

Screen showing the map with all fields when John can book a field and create a new game.

Video Demo App: <https://youtu.be/XN8hA3nTX4E>

Using FindOne app (soon available on the App Store) nobody will worry anymore, so you could organize and play matches without any risk.
Enjoy!